

A photograph of two men in a professional setting. The man on the left, of Asian descent, wears glasses and a grey button-down shirt, looking towards the other man. The man on the right, of European descent, is seen in profile wearing a blue sweater over a checkered shirt. They appear to be in a meeting or discussion. The background is slightly blurred, showing an office environment with a desk and chair.

BUENOS AIRES

Recoleta neighborhood and surrounding area

The name Recoleta originates from the Monastery of the Recollect Fathers (Convento de Recoletos Descalzos), a faction of the Franciscan Order. The monastery was built on land owned by the barrio's first mayor, Rodrigo Ortiz de Zarate, after Juan de Garay presented it to him as far back as 1583. At the time, Recoleta was a solitary and desolate area unaware of the changes that were to come.

Today, Recoleta is characterized by its elegantly dressed residents seen meandering along exclusive avenues and dining in chic cafés. Moreover, with its architectural and cultural history, the neighborhood forms an important part of the city's tourism trail.
